TWO OF THE PARTY ARE SERIOUSLY INJURED.

They Crossed Green Bay, a Distance of Twenty-Five Miles, in Forty Minutes—On Return Voyage, the Span Broke, and Caused Much Trouble.

Sturgeon Bay, Wis., Feb. 20.—[Special.]—An ice boating party from Menominee, came to grief in this bay last evening. Two of the crew being seriously hurt. They came across Green Bay, a distance of twenty-two miles, in forty-five minutes, including one stop. They started on their return trip and when under good headway, the spar broke, falling across Nic Brandenburg, one of the party, breaking his shoulder blade. Dav Callahan was thrown under the boat and besides breaking his shoulder blade, he was terribly cut and bruised about the face and body. F. S. Matthews had an arm badly injured. The other three, Eli Duval, P. A. Muelonyke and Joseph D. Quinby escaped without any injuries.

Wisconsin Town Menaced. Port Washington, Wis., Feb. 20.—Fire which started in the dry kilns of the Wisconsin chair factory at 9 p. m. Sunday reduced that plant to ashes and raged for nearly five hours before it was put under control at 2 o'clock Monday morning.

The loss to the chair factory is $350,000; insured for about 90 per cent. The damage to the other property is estimated at $50,000. The plant of the chair factory covered about three blocks, and it employed about 500 hands. State Senator F. A. Dennett, John Denett and other capitalists compose the company.

At 1 o'clock the Wilson house, the largest hotel in the town, took fire, and it was soon destroyed.

The flames leaped across the river to an inclosed foundry formerly operated by the Western Malleable Iron company and soon reduced it to ashes, together with a large number of fish shanties.

Two engines were sent from Milwaukee and one from Sheboygan, but nevertheless the flames threatened the entire business section for a long time.

A row of business establishments on Main and Franklin streets burned, but the individual losses were small. They include Joseph Elgenberg's livery stable, Schuder's bakery, Pelt's millinery store, N. S. Bode's saloon, Schreling's residence, George Hark's barber shop, Bulzine's jewelry store, P. Sturm's shoe store, Joseph Eldenberger's residence, Hugo N. Nienendorff's residence and harness shop and the Postal telegraph office.

Port Washington is a thriving little city of 2,000 inhabitants, and is one of the oldest towns on the lake shore. It is located twenty-five miles from Milwaukee.

WRITES OF "TELEPHONE WAR"

Anti-Monopoly Sends The Gazette a Statement From Madison.

Editor Gazette:—I see by the papers that you are having a telephone war in Janesville and that the Bell Telephone Company has reduced the rate slightly below the rates offered by the opposition company, provided the subscribers contract to use the Bell phones for three years. If your people will hold off, the Bell Company will without doubt, furnish phones free of any charge. We have had the same war here, and there are thirty or forty of the Bell users who got their phones free, and the same scheme obtains in Sheboygan, Oshkosh, La Crosse and other places. When the opposition company opened up in Madison, the Bell Company had some 500 subscribers. The opposition started with about 450 and today they have some 600 while the Bell has about 100, thirty or forty of which are furnished free. The scheme of the Bell Company, of course, is simply to kill off all opposition and then put the rates back to the old figures, or higher. We get far better service here than we ever had from the Bell Company, and have nearly double the amount of people to communicate with. Your people will make a great mistake if they do not stand by the Janesville company. Its owners being citizens of your city, will surely do more for you than any foreign monopoly corporation. ARBITRATORS ARE COMING

Milwaukee Men To Look Into the Cigar-makers Trouble.

Mayor Thoroughgood this morning received telephone messages from the board of arbitration of the labor union of Milwaukee asking it, in his judgment, the board should come to Janesville in reference to the Saulsman matter. The Mayor, knowing something of the case and the results which sometimes occur from these small beginnings, answered in the affirmative believing the matter could be settled between the parties interested. However, he hopes so, as Janesville has thus far been comparatively free from labor troubles, and in his judgment the one now on hand is a very frivolous nature, and with a cool discussion between the interested parties will not fail for an amicable settlement. The Mayor expects that the Milwaukee committee will reach here today.

Evidence of Indigestion. Coldness of feet and limbs is almost invariably an evidence of indigestion. The coldness is due not to the weakness of the heart or feebleness of circulation, as is generally supposed, but to the contraction of the small arteries, preventing blood from entering the parts. There is generally an irritation of the abdominal sympathetic nerve centers which control the circulation of the lower extremities. This difficulty is not to be removed by exercise or by any special application to the limbs, but by removal of the causes of irritation. This may be a protracted stomach or chronic indigestion. Hot and cold footbaths are valuable. These act not simply on the feet and limbs, but by reflex action affect beneficially the abdominal sympathetic centers, which are in a diseased condition.

Electric Fishes. Some interesting facts have recently been compiled with reference to fishes which have the power of generating electric discharges. The charge is developed by some chemical process occurring in the plate in which the electric nerve filaments end, and in some instances the discharge is from the head to the tail, while in the case of other fishes the reverse is true. In a full-sized electric eel or gymnotus, the voltage is probably from three hundred to eight hundred volts, and is easily capable of stunning a man. The momentary currents are sufficient to deflect a galvanometer or magnetize a needle. It is to be noted that the generation and intensity of the discharge are under the control of the animal, which is, apparently, in no way affected by the action.

Identified by Pigeons. "One of the queerest ways in which the identification of a dead man was ever established," said a prominent police official of Kansas City, the other day, "was that of a man named Davis, who was a carrier pigeon fancier. He had gone out to fly his birds and fell dead of heart disease. Nobody knew him and not a line was on his person as to who he was. He had two birds with him. I tied a slip to one's tail, on which I wrote 'Come to the police station,' and turned it loose. In an hour after his son appeared and identified his father."

A PLEASANT DAY FOR CHURCH GOERS

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT ALL THE CHURCHES.

The Beautiful Weather of Yesterday Brought Out Large Congregations to Their Respective Places of Worship—Rev. Wilson To Occupy All Souls' Pulpit.

Janesville people regardless of belief and religious affiliations, who have formed the acquaintance of Rev. A. G. Wilson, of Decorah, Iowa, will be pleased to know that the reverend gentleman has accepted a call and will occupy the pulpit of All Souls church in this city. Rev. Wilson has occupied the pulpit of the church for several weeks on trial and has given general satisfaction to those of his faith and just as soon as his co-workers can secure sufficient means to pay his salary for the first year, Rev. Wilson will enter upon the discharge of his duties, which will undoubtedly be the early part of next month.

Rev. Wilson is a man of no mediocre ability, which has been proven during his short sojourn in this city. He is a bright, active and congenial gentleman, who will do much for the upbuilding of All Souls church, which has been without a pastor for the past year.

A meeting of the church society was held at the church parlors last Saturday evening. Walter Helms was elected a trustee for two years to succeed himself, and Oliver Wisler was elected a trustee for the same term to succeed James Harris. Mr. Harris declined a reelection on account of his age but he still has the interests of the church at heart the same as of old.

W. H. Greenman was elected a trustee for three years to succeed himself and W. H. Merritt was elected for the same term in the place of I. C. Brownell.

At a meeting of the board of trustees, also held Saturday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—William Smith.
Treasurer—W. H. Merritt.
The same evening the ladies of the church served a supper, which was liberally patronized, the proceeds going toward the support of the church.

All wish Rev. Mr. Wilson unbounded success in his new field of labor and trust that his flock will grow not only spiritually but in numbers.

A very large and enthusiastic audience gathered at the First M. E. church last evening to listen to an able sermon delivered by the pastor, Rev. Woodside, from the text, First Kings, 18-19. Brother Stewart led the song service and sang a beautiful solo entitled, "The Home Land." The male quartette sang two selections the latter one entitled, "Drifting Toward Eternity," especially fitting for the occasion.

Quite a few gave their hearts to the Lord and many others were under strong conviction. The special meetings will continue every afternoon and evening this week. Mr. Stewart has been prevailed upon to remain another week and no one should fail of the opportunity of hearing him, as he has a wonderful voice and has complete control of it. Miss Ball, deaconess of Milwaukee, will be here and take charge of the afternoon meeting.

SCHOOL ART AUXILIARY MEET

TUMOR EXPELLED.

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. ELIZABETH WHEELLOCK, Magnolia, Iowa, in the following letter describes her recovery from a very critical condition:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been taking your Vegetable Compound, and am now ready to sound its praises. It has done wonders for me in relieving me of a tumor.

"My health has been poor for three years. Change of life was working upon me. I was very much bloated and was a burden to myself. Was troubled with smothering spells, also palpitation of the heart and that bearing-down feeling, and could not be on my feet much.

"I was growing worse all the time, until I took your medicine.

"After taking three boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Lozenges, the tumor passed from me. "My health has been better ever since, can now walk quite a distance and am troubled no more with palpitation of the heart or bloating. I recommend your medicine to all sufferers from female troubles."

It is hardly reasonable to suppose that any one can doubt the efficiency of Mrs. Pinkham's methods and medicine in the face of the tremendous volume of testimony.

A. P. Lovejoy. Mrs. John Winans, chairman of the ways and means committee, submitted her report which was most encouraging. An effort will be made by the League to secure an exhibit of Revolutionary pictures, which is valued at $10,000. It was decided that the association shall be known as, the School Art Auxiliary.

EDITOR LIBBY FLOGS BILL 13

Evansville Newspaper Man Gives Excellent Reason For Its Defeat.

Editor Libby, of the Evansville Enterprise, gives Senate bill No. 13 this dressing down:

A very unjust bill has been introduced into our state legislature, which should certainly be killed with just indignation, for it is no more nor less than simply asking or compelling private individuals and incorporations to make public that which has cost them thousands of dollars. It is known as Senate Bill No. 13, which, if made a law, will drive out and prevent the sale of all private medicines in this state, many of which we will not say all, our people would hardly know how to get along without, having become accustomed to their use in their families for years, for it simply requires the manufacturers of these medicines to make known all of the ingredients used in their manufacture, before they are allowed to sell them here; none who value this secret will divulge it for the sake of selling in this state, and none are valuable which would be willingly made public.

It should be remembered, that some men high in profession, have spent nearly their whole life and been to great expense in producing some of these remedies, and now to suppose that they will give this to the public free, or to compel them to do so, would certainly be wrong and a great injustice to deprive the public of its valuable use. But undoubtedly our state representatives will see the unjustness of such an act without further comment, and kill it as soon as brought before them. If we could sort out the worthless nostrums in some such manner and dispose of them it would be well, but such an indiscriminate measure as this now proposed would certainly deprive us of many such valuable remedies as have undoubtedly saved life in many instances, where physicians were not convenient and at hand.

Editor Libby, of the Evansville Enterprise, says, in his paper:

It seems to us that it would be well for our city board to give a little more attention to our cemetery affairs which is sadly neglected by them in some respects, especially in the building of a vault which should be constructed at the earliest opportunity and there should be ample funds for this purpose, of cemetery money derived from the lots, etc. The unavoidable exposure now of not only those engaged in the work of digging graves, but of all who accompany the remains of relatives and friends to the cemetery during cold stormy weather, frequently resulting in more sickness and death should have called the attention of our public officers to the necessity of having a vault sufficiently large to contain the remains of as many as necessary through bad storms and periods of extreme cold weather long ago after which they may be deposited in the ground with perfect safety to health and with much greater convenience. The lay of the land on the hill side in our cemetery is very advantageous for a construction of a vault at a very reasonable expense and we hope this subject will not have to be brought before our common council again before one is constructed at least before another cold winter.

CEMETERY VAULT IS NEEDED

Editor Libby Calls the Attention of the Council to the Matter.

Editor Libby, of the Evansville Enterprise, says, in his paper:

Pulpwood Blockade Broken.

Appleton, Wis., Feb. 20—The Northwestern Railway company has cleared up the blockade in pulp wood which tied up the trains for the first part of last week. At one time there were 200 cars a day arriving over the Wisconsin division alone and over 100 more on the Ashland division and over the Milwaukee road. The railway men ordered the extra cars to be sidetracked at Green Bay and unimportant points until the pressure could be relieved and the wood is now being taken care of as fast as it arrives.

The Combined Locks Paper company is shipping in wood from its own camps now, and a large quantity of the wood will also be brought up river the coming summer for the mill. It is the first time that this company has attempted to cut from its own timber lands.

THEY TOOK COXEY FOR COXEY

Lecturer and the Commonweal Leader Were Sometimes Confounded.

Willard D. Coxey, who lectures at the Myers Grand next Wednesday night on "A Trip to the Circus" is a cousin of General Coxey, of Commonweal fame. Although having very dissimilar views, Mr. Coxey has frequently been taken for the general, and as a consequence has had many amusing experiences. During the march of the Commonweal army to Washington, he was frequently interviewed by newspaper men under the impression that he was the Commonweal leader, and in that way secured many an extra column of advertising for one of the big circuses, which he represented as press agent. One of the most amusing instances of this mistake was furnished by an Iowa paper, which declared that "W. D. Coxey, the wild-eyed leader of a band of eccentrics, who marched to Washington with a 'petition in boots,' is making speeches for the populists in Iowa." The amusing character of this paragraph is evident when it is recalled that the Commonweal leader's name is Jacob Sechler Coxey. The advance sale of seats for "A Trip to the Circus" will open at the Myers Grand box office tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Popular prices will prevail.

It will cure la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Peoples' Drug Co., corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

LATE NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

THE CASH WILL BE VOTED.

Bill for Payment of $20,000,000 to Spain Is Safe.

NO DEBATE ON THE MEASURE.

It is to be Passed Under Suspension of the Rules—Army Reorganization Bill the Principal Business in the Senate for the Week.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The house enters upon the last two weeks of the session with three appropriation bills—the army, fortifications and general deficiency—unacted upon and the naval bill but half completed. The army bill must be held back until the senate decides upon its course relative to the reorganization bill, but it is not expected that either of the other bills will cause trouble. The situation in the house has, however, been greatly complicated by the action of the senate in placing the Nicaragua canal bill upon the river and harbor bill as a rider. This will doubtless precipitate a bitter fight in the house, and may result in the loss of the bill.

This is suspension day under the rules, and advantage will be taken of it to pass the bill for the payment of $20,000,000 to Spain to carry out the terms of the Paris treaty. Under suspension of the rules amendments are not in order, so the house will have no opportunity to vote upon any of the numerous expressions of future policy with which various members threatened it.

Chairman Knox of the committee on territories, together with Mr. Hitt, chairman of foreign affairs, who was on the Hawaiian commission, are insisting on the imperative necessity for the passage of the bill for the government of Hawaii at this session, and Speaker Reed and the committee on rules will give this matter consideration early in the week.

The army reorganization bill will hold the center of the stage in the senate, but Senator Cullom says he will make an effort to get up the general bill providing a government for Hawaii. Senator Fairbanks will also undertake to call up the bill extending the anti-contract labor laws to Hawaii. Senator Carter will continue to press the Alaskan bill whenever opportunity affords. The Sampson-Schley controversy will almost certainly come up in executive session. The anti-scalping bill will be abandoned.

BOTH FILE PROTESTS.

Germany and America Blame Each Other for the Samoa Trouble.

London, Feb. 20.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times says: "It appears that Germany has protested to the Washington government against the action of Chief Justice Chambers in Samoa, while America has entered a counter protest against the action of the German consul. It is suggested in influential circles here that the best solution of the difficulty would be a disavowal, through their representatives, by all three powers, thus clearing the way for a unanimous decision regarding the future."

Programme at Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 20.—Now that Speaker Sherman has promised that the Sullivan bill, repealing the Allen law, will be given a chance to get before the house, there seems to be no prospect for a renewal of last week's riotous demonstrations unless the democrats find that filibustering tactics are being used to delay final action. There is a well-defined impression that there will be no action on the congressional apportionment until after March 4. The street-railway fight will be transferred to the senate, where the bill of the committee on municipalities will be the bone of contention. The democratic senators will stand for a straight repeal of the Allen law, and will endeavor to get some help from the other side.

American Killed in Honduras.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 20.—In the executive mansion at Washington there has been recorded a protest the result of which may lead to serious trouble between two nations, the United States and the republic of Honduras. The murder of Frank Pears, the Pittsburg man, in Honduras on the night of January 31, will undoubtedly lead to most embarrassing complications unless the little republic shall apologize and at the same time deliver up a great amount of gold as a fine for the foul murder committed.

Empire State May Aid Trusts.

New York, Feb. 20.—A bill is expected to make its appearance at Albany this week which will be favorable to trusts. Its general purpose will be to encourage the organization of corporations in this state, that the state government may derive some of the great revenues which now accrue to the state of New Jersey, largely through the operation of New York capitalists.

The restaurant on the 7th floor of the Association building in La Salle street is also run by this company and is equally inviting and attractive.

HEART DISEASE.

SOME FACTS REGARDING THE RAPID INCREASE IN HEART TROUBLES.

Do Not Be Alarmed, But Look For The Cause.

Heart troubles, at least among the Americans, are certainly increasing and while this may be largely due to the excitement and worry of American business life, it is more often the result of weak stomachs, of poor digestion.

Real organic disease is incurable; but not one case in a hundred of heart trouble is organic.

The close relation between heart trouble and poor digestion is because both organs are controlled by the same great nerves, the Sympathetic and Pneumogastric. In another way, also, the heart is affected by the form of poor digestion, which causes gas and fermentation from half digested food. There is a feeling of oppression and heaviness in the chest caused by pressure of the distended stomach on the heart and lungs, interfering with their action; hence arises palpitation and short breath.

Poor digestion also poisons the blood, making it thin and watery, which irritates and weakens the heart.

The most sensible treatment for heart trouble is to improve the digestion and to insure the prompt assimilation of food.

This can be done by the regular use after meals of some safe, pleasant and effective digestive preparation, like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which may be found at most drug stores and which contain valuable, harmless digestive elements in a pleasant, convenient form.

It is safe to say that the regular persistent use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at meal time will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

Full sized package of these tablets sold by druggists at 50 cents. Little book on stomach troubles mailed free. Address T. A. Stuart, Co., Marshall Mich.

Just a Hint.

"Father," asked Tommy, the other day, "why is it that the boy is said to be the father of the man?" Mr. Tomkins had never given this subject any thought, and was hardly prepared to answer off hand. "Why, why," he said, stammering, "it's so because it is so, I suppose." "Well," said Tommy, "since I'm your father, I'm going to give you a ticket to a theater and half a crown besides. I always said that if I was a father I wouldn't be so stingy as the rest of them are. Go in, and have a good time while you're young. I never had any chance myself!" Mr. Tomkins gazed in blank amazement at Tommy. Slowly the significance of the hint dawned upon him. Producing the silver coin he said: "Take it, Thomas. When you really do become a father, I hope it won't be your misfortune to have a son who is wiser than yourself."—Tit-Bits.

ARTILLERY FIRE SILENCED.

Utah Battery Trains Its Guns on the Insurgents.

FEW SHOTS WERE SUFFICIENT.

Belief That the Natives Are Planning an Attack on Gen. MacArthur's Division—Gen. Otis' Plans, as Understood by the War Department.

Manila, Feb. 20.—In the city here matters are progressing much as usual. The military authorities are keeping a very close watch upon the natives, and whatever apprehensions were felt by foreigners of danger from this quarter have now been dismissed.

Acting under orders from Gen. Otis, commander of the American forces here, four companies of the California regiment and two companies of the Idaho regiment, who had been occupying the village of Guadalupe, retired to San Pedro Macati. The enemy apparently took this move for a retreat, and opened a very feeble attack. For the first time since the battle of Feb. 5, when they were severely punished, the rebels used artillery. They fired two shots at the Americans, both of which fell short.

The Utah battery replied to the fire, and a few shots had the effect of silencing the enemy's guns.

The unusual number of natives who have been seen to the north causes a suspicion that they are planning an attack on Gen. MacArthur's division.

The fleet of Admiral Dewey has been strengthened by the gunboat Helela, which arrived from the United States.

PLANS OF GEN. OTIS.

Waiting for Aguinaldo's Army to Reorganize and for More Troops.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Maj. Gen. Otis did not advise the war department Sunday about the situation at Manila, but he sent a list of ten casualties, not previously reported, resulting from the several actions in the vicinity of Manila during the past week. While the department has not been fully informed by Gen. Otis as to his plans, it is supposed here that he is waiting until the scattered remnants of Aguinaldo's army are reorganized, so that another telling blow can be struck by the Americans.

It is realized here that Gen. Otis has not enough men to engage in a general campaign with the object of hunting down the Filipinos and crushing the uprising, but it is expected that as soon as the re-enforcements now on their way to him reach Manila he will begin aggressive operations extending many miles beyond the capital. More than 5,000 regular troops are on the way to Manila, thus giving Gen. Otis an effective force of about 25,000.

He has informed the war department that if these troops were at Manila he could crush the insurrection or effectually prevent any further resistance to American authority. It may be anticipated, therefore, that Gen. Otis will resume operations about March 15, with the expectation of putting an end to the outbreak early in April. These operations extend only to the island of Luzon, but no great amount of trouble is likely to occur, according to the opinion held here, in the other islands.

Agoncillo Goes in Haste.

Montreal, Feb. 20.—Agoncillo left Montreal suddenly Sunday evening. Just previous to his departure the Filipino delegates who reached America a few days ago arrived from San Francisco. After a brief conference with them Agoncillo hurried to the railway station and took the train for New York. He stated he was bound for England, and that he would sail from New York.

Dewey Sees a Skirmish.

Manila, Feb. 20.—Admiral Dewey, with a large party of military and naval officers, went up the Pasig river Sunday afternoon and visited San Pedro Macati, Gen. King's headquarters. While there the party witnessed skirmishing between the American and native forces. The First California sharpshooters engaged the insurgents.

In youth, Wine of Cardui will take the female child safely over the dividing line between girlhood and womanhood. As a wife she needs it to help her through the trials of pregnancy and childbirth with as little discomfort as possible. At the Change of Life it will help her over the dangerous place that appears in her pathway between 40 and 50. Then will come many years of truly blissful existence. She will grow old slowly and gracefully. To the last she will preserve that charm and beauty which are always characteristic of perfectly healthy grandmothers. It is for women alone to decide whether they will be healthy or sick. The remedy for their sickness is close at hand.

OSHKOSH NEEDS ADVICE

Oshkosh's common council is likely to cause an action to be brought to annul the franchise of the water company on the grounds that the water is bad. Oshkosh people evidently have a few things to learn, but perhaps they will never learn them except through bitter experience. They have yet to learn, apparently, that the courts are slow to act when it comes to confiscating private property, and that more than one scientist must be sworn before the court will feel justified in saying to the water company:

"We consider the water you furnish so bad that we feel justified in fining you $500,000"—or whatever sum the plant may happen to be worth. Noise cuts no figure when you get into court. Then applause only causes the expulsion of the disturbers. It is easy for the enemies of the Oshkosh water company to win applause at public meetings and on the street corners, but the judge will say:

"Never mind the rhetoric, give us the facts!"

Talking to an audience and addressing a court are very different propositions. The Oshkosh council and the Oshkosh people may think they have a case when the court will not listen to the plans more than five minutes.

Janesville people know just what it means to "annul the water company's franchise." We had "hurrah boys" meetings, and all of that. We raised the money and spent it, but in spite of it all the water company is still doing business at the old stand, for the legal proceedings were snuffed out before they really got into court.

When the city got through trying to bulldoze the company, it was found that all differences could be adjusted in a few hours. As the result Janesville has the best water, and the best fire protection in the state. Rates are reasonable, and the company does business with all its patrons in a business-like manner.

Oshkosh can save a goodly amount of money by profiting by Janesville's experience. You can drive a horse to water, but you cannot make it drink. The lawyers may talk all they want to, but they will find it as difficult to annul that franchise as they would to confiscate a business block or a stock of goods, to punish the owner for a violation of the laws, the city ordinances, or a business contract.

The question of whether or not the water is bad makes no difference when a business view of the case is taken. A law suit in which a municipality figures always means money for the lawyers, but often both plaintiff and defendant emerge from the ring financially disfigured, and with nothing to show for the fight except the marks of hard blows, while the status of the case itself is just the same as it was in the beginning.

In reducing rates at this late day, the Wisconsin Telephone company has "locked the barn after the horse was stolen." The Rock County Telephone company, being composed of local residents, naturally has the good will of the people. The local company promises unexcelled service, and at a cheap rate. The Wisconsin company only met the cut when compelled to do so, or abandon the field. Therefore, the old company cannot expect much from the people.

Neenah young ladies have formed a "Giddy Girls Gang," the object being to soften the male "Marble Hearts." The organizations would seem to go well together and a combination leather medal should be given them at once.

And then, the council might pay for a chemical engine with money from "the general fund." Then there would be no trouble about it at all. Things that are paid for from the general fund do not count, you know.

Who would have imagined, before the legislature met, that we needed nearly 400 more laws than we now have!

It will be as difficult to smash the glass trust as to dissolve the ice combination.

According to dispatches, many miles of water mains at Oshkosh are frozen solid.

This is proof positive that a certain oft made charge is true. If Oshkosh people used enough water to keep up a circulation in the pipes, there would certainly have been no freezeups.

Word comes from Michigan that the annual failure of the peach crop was a failure this year.

The daily "crisis in France" has again been passed in safety.

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP."

The famous Captain Lawrence, who shouted "Don't give up the ship" at a critical period in our naval history, is to be honored by having his name attached to the hull of a new torpedo-boat destroyer ordered by the government, and the woman who will hail her as "Lawrence" is a New York girl selected by the secretary of the navy.

The young lady to whom this honor thus appropriately falls is Miss Ruth Lawrence of 285 Lexington avenue, who is a descendant of Captain James Lawrence, commander of the Chesapeake in the war of 1812, for whom the new destroyer is named. Miss Lawrence comes of an old American family, dating back to colonial days. Several of her ancestors distinguished themselves in the colonial wars and the war of the revolution. She is a daughter of Abraham K. Lawrence, for over twenty-five years justice of the United States Supreme Court. Miss Lawrence takes an active part in woman's affairs in this city, being a prominent member of the Colonial Dames of the state of New York, an incorporator of the Little Sisters of the Quill. She is author of a book of "Colonial Verses" and writes short stories and poems for various periodicals. At the outbreak of the war with Spain Miss Lawrence volunteered as a nurse, but lacked the necessary experience. She has traveled extensively and her social standing as a member of the old Lawrence family is acknowledged.

As a souvenir of her illustrious kinsman Miss Lawrence cherishes some pieces of the hull of the old Chesapeake, still dotted with the shot of the Shannon, with which she fought in the memorable conflict off Boston harbor, when her brave commander, mortally wounded, with his expiring breath cheered on his crew with the now famous sentence: "Don't give up the ship." That sentence is one of the treasures of the navy, the latest addition being the famous bulletin of Admiral Dewey: "Immediately engaged the enemy and captured the following."

WHERE TIN IS BEING MINED.

Sources from Which the Desirable Product Is Obtained.

The tin used in the tin plate industry comes from several sources. The best of these is found in Australia and the straits settlements. The latter furnish the most desirable tin, known as Banca tin. This is regarded as the purest, and is in consequence more sought after by the manufacturers of tin plate. The Cornwall mines were discovered about 55 B. C. and for twelve centuries were the one source of this mineral. In 1240 tin was found in Bohemia. Five hundred years later, in 1760, the Banca mines were opened. In the following century Australia became a producer of block tin on a large scale. From 1872 tin has been found in commercial quantities in New South Wales, Queensland and Tasmania. The United States have not been so fortunate, although many attempts have been made from time to time to find tin. Tin was discovered in California as early as 1840, but there was no mining done until 1888. Only for a short time were the mines operated; they were then closed down and remained so until 1888. In this year an American company bought the property with the intention of operating it, but it was sold to an English syndicate before two years had passed. Something like $800,000 was spent, but no special results were secured. The total product of the mine was 269,000 pounds of tin, valued at $56,000. The Harney Peak mine is the story of another futile attempt to get tin in commercial quantities. The Harney Peak, as it is familiarly called, is situated near Custer City, S. D. A great deal of money has been spent in the development of this mine, but it is doubtful if more than ten tons of metal have been taken out of the ground. The English capitalists were also heavily interested in this attempt. In Alabama, North Carolina and Virginia tin-bearing rock has been found. In no sense can the United States be regarded as a tin-producing country.

DOG'S BODY RESTS IN COSTLY CASKET

FIFTY DOLLARS PAID FOR A COFFIN.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Jenkins Pay High Tribute to an Animal They Loved—Dearly—Was Twelve Years Old and of the Setter Breed—Costly Trimmings Are Used.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Jenkins, 18 South Main street, have during the past twelve years become greatly attached to their valuable setter dog named Ponto, but during a recent attack of sickness Ponto died.

Now Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins propose to give their pet a fitting burial and have bought a coffin made by the Hanson Furniture company at a cost of $50. The casket is made of oak with silver screw tops and bronze handles. It is air tight, zinc lined. The inside is furnished with the finest of trimmings the same as are used by the local undertakers in the best of caskets. In one end is a raised pillow and on this rests the canine's head as he lies on his side.

Ponto was a blooded canine of the setter variety and was considered to be one of the most valuable dogs ever owned in Janesville.

He came originally from Newton, N. J. Mr. Jenkins once refused $250.00 for him, the offer being made by Isaac Stephenson the Marquette millionaire.

The body of this much beloved dog now rests in the casket at the Jenkins home and the interment will take place at the Jenkins farm on Milton avenue. The coffin is to be placed within a box made for the purpose.

Peculiar Privileges.

Lord Forester, who has accepted the office of mayor of Wenlock, England, this year, possesses an extraordinary privilege, and one that he is hardly likely to avail himself of. By a grant from King Henry VIII, which is now among Lord Forester's family archives, he has the right of wearing his hat in the presence of the queen. Lord Forester is the only English nobleman who enjoys this privilege, which was conferred upon his ancestors as commoners. The Forester peerage was created at a comparatively recent time—July, 1821.

Lord Kingsale, the premier baron of Ireland, also enjoys the hereditary privilege of wearing his hat in the royal presence—a favor granted to his ancestor, John de Courcy, by King John.

NO PROMOTION IN G. A. R.

National Council Must Elect Successor to Col. Sexton.
Washington, Feb. 20.—The national congress of mothers unanimously adopted a resolution urging congress not to admit Brigham H. Roberts to a seat in the house of representatives.
Minneapolis, Feb. 18.—Capt. Eli Torrance of Minneapolis, judge advocate general of the national G. A. R. organization, has made his decision in the matter of the disputed succession to the national commandership, made vacant by the death of Colonel Sexton of Chicago. The decision is that a successor must be elected, that there is no promotion in the G. A. R. through death.

Captain Torrance holds that the executive committee of the national council has full power to elect the commander. It will be unnecessary to call a meeting of the national council. The decision is sustained by a lengthy and conclusive memorandum.

THE ETERNAL RIVERS.

Interesting Discoveries Recently Made on the Lena.

Writing from Bulkur on the Lena Delta, Herr Cladling, who is in command of the expedition sent from Sweden to search for Andree, gives an account of some extremely interesting observations on the age of the river Lena. He says that, having followed the river Bulkur, a tributary of the Lena, to a height of 250 meters (820 feet), to a fertile slope, he was surprised to find in the bed of a rivulet emptying itself into the Bulkur, a log of ancient drift wood. Further investigation showed that masses of drift wood were deposited there. A storm prevented extended observation. He returned subsequently, and on examining a cascade formed by the rivulet he noticed certain peculiarities of the ravine cut by the water. "On closer examination I found to my astonishment that the layer underneath this surface soil, the thickness of which varied between 3 feet and 4 1/2 feet, consisted of pure ice, having a dark blue color, like steel, with no marks of strata or cony masses, which characterize the ice in glaciers (e.g. on Spitzbergen). The thickness of this layer of ice I was not able to ascertain further than the depth of nine feet. In the layer of earth above this ice, which I later on observed on several spots in this place, the drift wood was buried in large quantities, evidently deposited by the river Lena in those remote times when it flowed more than 200 meters (650 feet) above the present bed. How many tens or hundreds—may be thousands—of centuries have elapsed since that remote time, it is impossible to calculate. But the fact that the gigantic river since that time removed its course about twelve or fifteen kilometers eastwards, cutting its way through a mountain about 300 meters (nearly 1,000 feet) high or even more, may give some idea of the length of this period. The kind of pure ice underneath the soil which thus plays the part of solid rock, and therefore very fitly has been called 'stone-ice,' has been, as is well known, discovered on New Siberian islands, and on certain places on the continent near the Polar seas; but I do not know that it has been discovered before in any place at so great an altitude above the sea as in the above-mentioned spot. It is also a well known fact that remains of the mammoth, the rhinoceros and other extinct animals, or animals now living in southern latitudes, are found in the soil deposited above the 'stone-ice.' A thorough investigation would perhaps bring to light interesting finds of that kind even in the place discovered by me. In any case there is no doubt whatever that systematic investigations and surveys of these regions would contribute largely to the solution of many scientific questions of greatest interest."

VIEWS OF SENATOR JONES.

Interview with Chairman of Democratic National Committee.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Senator James K. Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee, in an authorized interview was asked if in his opinion the democratic national convention of next year would reaffirm the Chicago platform. He said:

"To say that the next democratic national convention will reaffirm the platform taken by the convention in 1896 is to assert that every candid man, even slightly familiar with existing facts, knows to be true. It is as certain as anything human can be that the question of bimetalism will be the leading issue in the campaign next year."

"On what grounds do you base your hopes for success next year?" was asked.

"Some of the reasons why I am strongly hopeful of the future of our cause are as follows: In the campaign of 1896 both parties declared for bimetalism; the democrats for independent action by the United States, the republicans for an international agreement, which they pledged themselves to promote. It must appear plain to all friends of bimetalism that the democratic party had the better position, and the voters have had ample time to consider the two platforms."

"On being asked if he believed that the cause of bimetalism was improving he said:

"There are as many believers in bimetalism to-day in the United States as there ever were, and all these doubters are now convinced that the only way to accomplish bimetalism is through the action of the democratic party. The great effort to stop the fall of prices—the shrinking of values and to relieve the distressed business resulting from these great evils, without doing injustice or injury to any class or business, is being more and more understood, and temperate arguments and appeals for simple justice, when the people have time, to fairly weigh the arguments and form a deliberate judgment, must succeed."

"There was great unrest and dissatisfaction in 1896 throughout the country, resulting from falling prices and shrinking values. The republican party promised that if they were entrusted with power all this would be changed, and that prosperity should succeed existing conditions. Has this proved true? A great famine and a short crop of wheat all over the world except in the United States, the price of wheat, the price of wheat while those conditions lasted, and the beneficial effects of this increase in the price of wheat is still widely felt. The beneficial effects of this temporary advance in the price of a single article, which was so marked in the short period it continued, is likely to stimulate a desire for a return to that condition permanently and an extension of it to all other products. This is our purpose, and was our purpose in 1896."

Asked how he accounted for the activity in business, he answered:

"There has been necessarily an increased demand for labor within the last few months, as the result of the withdrawal of large numbers of American citizens from the ordinary walks of life to be employed in the army, whose places had been filled. There has also been an increased activity in the demand for all products which were necessary to the maintenance and support of a large army. But all these conditions are in the very nature of things temporary, and all of us know that they must pass away with the end of the conditions which brought them into life. Making due allowance for the influence of these three causes, on the present condition of the country, there is to-day as much dissatisfaction and as much cause for it as there was in 1896. A condition of constantly falling general prices is everywhere recognized as a condition of distress and hard times, and speculation and excitement in Wall street does not change this. We believe that a small volume of money forces prices down, hence we have urged the coinage of our silver as well as of our gold—not only to check this grinding fall in prices, but to promote steadily advancing prices."

"Then you think that the Chicago platform is gaining ground?"

"I most certainly do. In the elections of last year the principles of that platform were not the leading and exclusive issues in all sections of the country. These were partially obscured in many states and districts. The question of bimetalism, the republican effort to retire the greenbacks and to confer upon the national banks the absolute control of the volume of paper money, were, in many sections, in the time being lost sight of in the excitement of the war and its resulting questions; and in others they were sidetracked by efforts to substitute local issues in their stead. The result was a great loss of interest and a large falling off in the vote, with apparently unfavorable results to the democratic party. In Colorado, where national issues were at the front and dominant, the interest in the election was intense, the vote large and our majority overwhelming. In states where it was stated, whether truly or not, that there was an intention on the part of the democratic managers to sidetrack the great issue, with the purpose of ultimately bringing the party in national convention back to the practice of shuffling and evasion, so long persisted in by both political parties, the interest was not great, the vote was not full, and the results were not conclusive. There was, however, one great and valuable result—all reasonable men are now satisfied that straddling and dodging are not popular. The next democratic national convention will speak out again in the same clear, unequivocal terms, and in the same manner and in the same lines that it did in 1896. Of this there can be no doubt."

MILLER WINS RACE.

Six-Day Struggle at Trisico Ended at 143d Hour.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 20.—The big bicycle race was brought to a close at the end of the 143d hour. At this time the distance between the contestants and their condition made it improbable that any change would result from finishing the last hour of the contest, and by mutual consent it was decided to bring the great ride to an end and save the weary riders further strain.

Miller had been resting for some time previously, his lead being sufficient to make it sure that he could not be overhauled. It had been his intention to come on for a mile or so at the last to show his reserve strength and speed, but the decision to terminate the contest at 9:54 instead of 10:54 o'clock prevented this.

Every one of the men made over 1,500 miles, and each will therefore receive a $200 prize offered for this accomplishment. The world's records made in this race are so far ahead of any previous marks that they will possibly never be eclipsed except under the most favorable conditions.

What Do I Know About It?

Thought I knew it all—but I didn't. I am learning something every day. Glad to tell you what I do know

Ever notice a man suddenly place his hands on his hips? Watch his face contract with pain? Know the reason why he does it? Ask him about it. He will tell you 'tis the result of years of hard work, his back has given out, wouldn't stand the strain any longer, aches nearly all the time, sudden twinges of pain in the back make his life almost unbearable. What have I done for it? Oh! I have rubbed it with liniments until I am nearly raw, worn plasters for months at a time. No! I'm too old now to be cured. Here is a case where age and experience are wrong; an opportunity to help a suffering fellow being. Tell him where he's wrong, explain how the aches and pains of the back come from disordered kidneys, and to cure the back you must reach the kidneys. Tell him about and the thousands of Janesville backs that have been cured. Don't expect a man of his years to take your word for it or our word for it; let him investigate the experience of his neighbors. DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS will stand on their Janesville record, and any Kidney sufferer can find plenty of home proof like the following:

Mr. L. Lawrence, of 408 S. Franklin St., engineer at the Janesville Electric Light Co., says:
"Seven years ago Linjin (my back) by falling through a bridge near Afton, into the Rock river, was on a traction engine, its weight broke through, and the whole thing went into the stream. Since that time my back has ached by spells, sometimes very severely. If I caught cold it settled in my kidneys, and if I brought a strain on my back by lifting the result was a bad case of backache and sharp twinges of pain in my loins. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the People's drug store and after I used them I was free from backache. I am in better health than at any time since falling through the bridge. It is for just such complaints as I suffered from that I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

STORY OF CHINIQUY.

SYNOPSIS OF FRENCH-CANADIAN'S STORMY CAREER.

He Led a Division from the Catholic Church into the Fold of the Presbyterianism—Once Defended by Abraham Lincoln.

Rev. Charles Chiniquy, who died in Montreal, Que., recently was probably the most widely known preacher of recent years. Chiniquy's life in and out of the church was a turbulent one. His quarrels with Bishop O'Regan of Chicago led to the dismissal of that bishop by the pope and drove hundreds, mostly French-Canadians, from the church. Chiniquy was born in Kamouraska, Que., July 30, 1809. He was ordained to the priesthood in Montreal in 1833, largely through the labors of a former monk named Mark Capucin, who took a liking to Chiniquy when he was a boy. In 1851 Chiniquy visited Illinois and during his travels stopped at the French-Canadian settlement at Bourbonnais Grove. While there he electrified the members of the church by his powerful sermons and eloquence. He was pleased with the country and decided to locate a colony of his own in Kankakee county, as this was in direct line with the project of the bishop of Chicago to after the location had been made fifty families planted their tents about Chiniquy's. The hardships of the colony during that winter were terrible, as most of the colonists were without money and insufficiently provided with clothing to protect them from the rigors of the season. Chiniquy and two of the members of the camp used to kill every day sufficient wild game to feed the people. The colony worked in harmony, and by the opening of spring over forty small log huts had been erected, together with a church building about forty feet square. At this time the colony numbered more than 100 families, and there were more than 500 adults.

Notwithstanding opposition, over 2,000 immigrants came from France, Belgium, and Canada during 1853. The priest at Bourbonnais had been dismissed and Chiniquy was given charge of the church at that place in addition to his charge at St. Anne. This priest located just across the Illinois line in Indiana, and began proselyting. Six hours after the dedication of the church the building was in ashes.

Shortly after this fire Rev. Mr. O'Regan was appointed bishop of Chicago. On one occasion the bishop visited St. Anne to confirm a large class and, seeing a fine house in process of erection, inquired who the owner was. Chiniquy said it was his, and the bishop demanded it, as the laws of the church denied the ownership of property by priests. In 1857 he was excommunicated. Such was his influence over his people that out of over 400 families residing near the village of St. Anne all but fifteen followed him out of the church and joined the Presbyterian church. On April 15, 1860, the presbytery of Chicago adjourned their meeting in Chicago to St. Anne, when Chiniquy presented them with a class of nearly 2,000 converts, who were received into full communion of the church. This action was soon followed by the establishment of missions in the French-Canadian settlements at Kankakee, Aurora, Waukegan, Mokena, Manteno, and many other points. Some of these missions have since died, but a few have grown. In 1854 he was sued for slander in the circuit court of Kankakee county. A change of venue was taken to Champaign county, and, largely through the skillful pleadings of ex-President Lincoln, Chiniquy was cleared.

His Principles.

"Are you in favor of an open-door policy?" "Well," said Aguilardo, "I suppose the door will have to be open. But I want it understood right now that I propose to be there taking tickets."—Washington Star.

take possession of the rich valley of the Mississippi and the prairies of the west. He was met with opposition in his colonization scheme by the priests at Bourbonnais and by Rev. Mr. Lebel of Chicago. Several of the prominent residents of the village offered to assist Chiniquy in selecting a site for his colony and, with them, he started to select the highest point of land in Illinois for his first town, in order to secure the purest air and water for the new immigrants. He finally located the village of St. Anne, naming it thus after the famous St. Anne de Beaupre in Canada. Within ten days
